Purpose of this notice
This notice explains how our website uses cookies and similar storage or access technologies, what choices are available to visitors and how those choices can be changed.

1. About This Cookie Notice

This Cookie Notice explains how Masterpiece GRC Consulting Limited uses cookies and similar technologies when you visit our website. It should be read together with our Privacy Notice.

The term "cookies" in this notice also covers similar technologies that store information on, or access information from, a device or browser, including local storage, pixels, tags, scripts and comparable technologies where relevant.

2. What Cookies Are

Cookies are small pieces of data that websites can place on or read from a browser or device. Some are necessary for a website to operate. Others can support functionality, statistics, personalisation or marketing. Cookies may be set by the website you are visiting or by a third-party service used by that website.

3. Why We Use Cookies and Similar Technologies

We may use these technologies to:

- operate, protect and secure the website;
- remember privacy choices and other preferences;
- maintain sessions and deliver functionality requested by the visitor;
- understand how the website is used and improve performance and usability;
- measure the effectiveness of professional communications or campaigns where this is enabled; and
- support third-party functionality embedded in the website, where applicable.

4. Categories We Use

Category	Purpose
Strictly necessary	Required for core operation, security, network management, session handling or recording privacy choices. These technologies cannot normally be switched off through our consent controls where they are essential to provide a service requested by you.
Analytics / statistics	Help us understand how people use the website, for example which pages are visited and whether visitors encounter errors. We use these only where the relevant legal requirements are satisfied.
Functionality	Remember settings or provide enhanced features. Depending on the purpose and legal conditions, consent may be required.
Marketing	May be used to measure campaigns or understand engagement with marketing content. We do not use these without consent where consent is required.
Third-party technologies	May be used when the site contains services supplied by another provider, such as embedded media, scheduling tools, maps or social features. The applicable category depends on the purpose of the technology.

5. Consent and Legal Exceptions

Where consent is legally required, we do not activate the relevant optional technology until you have made the appropriate choice. You can accept or reject optional categories through the cookie banner or Cookie Settings control.

UK law also permits limited use of certain storage and access technologies without consent where a specific statutory exception applies and its conditions are met. This can include technologies that are strictly necessary for a service requested by the user and, in defined circumstances, certain statistical or appearance and functionality purposes. Where we rely on an exception that requires a right to object, we provide a clear and free way to exercise that choice.

6. Current Cookie and Technology List

The live Cookie Settings panel on our website forms part of this Cookie Notice. It provides the current list of cookies and similar technologies configured on the website, together with the provider, purpose, category and retention duration where available.

Because the technical configuration of a website can change more frequently than a legal notice, the Cookie Settings panel is the authoritative current inventory at the point of use. We update the configuration and supporting information when technologies are added, removed or materially changed.

> Implementation requirement
> Optional analytics, functionality or marketing technologies that require consent must remain blocked until the visitor has made the relevant choice. A permanent Cookie Settings control should remain available so visitors can change their preferences later.

7. Managing Your Choices

You can use the Cookie Settings control on our website to review and change available choices. Withdrawing consent does not affect processing that was lawful before consent was withdrawn.

Most browsers also allow you to restrict, block or delete cookies through browser settings. Browser-level blocking may affect website functionality, and settings applied in one browser or device may not automatically apply to another.

8. Third-Party Services

Where our website uses third-party services, those providers may process information under their own privacy arrangements. Relevant third-party technologies should be identified in the live Cookie Settings panel. We assess these services and configure them in line with our legal and security requirements.

9. Changes to This Cookie Notice

We may update this notice when our website, technology providers, legal requirements or consent configuration changes. The effective date shown on the current notice indicates when it was last materially updated.

10. Contact Us

Questions about our use of cookies or similar technologies can be sent to info@masterpiecegrcconsulting.com.
